One call is all it takes

Action for Blind People provides expert help for blind and partially sighted people, their family and friends - here and now, when it's needed most.

Equal opportunities

Our specialist employment teams work hard to prepare visually impaired people for employment, find the right job, or keep their job if they lose their sight whilst working.

Actionnaires - a sporting chance

Our Actionnaires sports clubs are unique. They offer blind and partially sighted children a regular club to attend, where they can take part in sporting competitions with sighted kids, make friends, keep fit and have fun.

A roof over your head

Everyone wants somewhere to live where they feel comfortable and safe. Action for Blind People provides a real choice for blind and partially sighted people about where they live, whether it's information and support in choosing a new home, or a move to supported housing or residential care.

There when you need us most

Help and support is crucial for anyone who is told that they are losing their sight, so Action is leading a project, funded by the Department of Health, to develop consistent and professional support services in eye clinics throughout the UK.

Getting it right

Action's Welfare Rights experts guide visually impaired people and their advisers through the benefits maze, ensuring that the right benefits go to the people who really need them.
